Emerald CBD Revitalisation

Works are set to continue as the CBD Revitalisation project moves into its next phase of construction after reaching key milestones recently.

Central Highlands Regional Council Mayor Peter Maguire said the project is progressing well with the community to see more significant changes over the coming weeks.

"Since completing the Anakie Street intersection we have moved onto the Borilla Street intersection where concreting of the footpaths is well underway," Cr Maguire said.

"Walls for the split level footpaths between Borilla Street and Opal Street are also happening and we expect they will be completed by the end of next week.

"New stormwater pipes to alleviate the localised flooding around the Westpac Bank are beginning to be laid from Egerton Street to the golf course.

Cr Maguire said the public will continue to see more contemporary design improvements as part of the CBD's transformation.

"The shade structures are nearly completed with final touches being made over the next two weeks along with more public art being placed in front of Ray White Real Estate and the Post Office," he said.

"The first stage of the mature tree planting is set to commence on 10 June with the trees arriving over three days.

"With such significant improvements continuing I would like to thank the community for their support and encourage them to take care around the work sites."
